

Artemide lights up Green Pea

Green Pea is the first Green Retail Park in the world dedicated to the theme of respect. It opens in Turin on 9 December 2020: 15,000 m² of products that are sustainable and respectful of the Earth, Air, Water and People. Artemide, the “Human&Responsible Light” company, illuminates the five floors of the building in addition to being present with its own retail space on the first floor, dedicated to products for the Home.

The whole Artemide collection is an expression of a responsible, informed approach to design. Artemide is committed to ongoing research in order to develop lighting systems that pursue the goal of maximum energy efficiency. Focus is on the materials and production processes but the sustainable approach does not end in the product: over time it generates a positive impact on the energy balance of the spaces it illuminates. Artemide lighting is therefore the perfect choice for this “From duty to beauty” project.

A cluster of 28 Discovery lamps, specially made in the custom size of 190cm, welcomes the visitor in the full-height space that connects the five floors. The transparent surface comes to life with a white or coloured light, green in honour of Green Pea, for a spectacular solution, which can also be glimpsed from the outside through the façade.

The Artemide lighting project follows the interior and exterior spaces with products that are the result of the collaboration with the major international architects who express choices that are attentive to the limited resources of our planet: BIG with Alphabet of Light, Ripple and Gople, or Elemental by Alejandro Aravena with “O”, to name just a few.
