In the heart of Naples, where the city's historical layers meet its contemporary energy, Caracolè Luxury Suites interprets a new approach to hospitality through a project in which architecture, interior design and light exist in harmonious dialogue.

Located in Piazza Bovio, the property enhances the character of its spaces through an elegant design language, in which Artemide's light contributes to shaping the identity of the interiors, connecting the memory of the place with a contemporary design sensibility.

Artemide's presence unfolds throughout the interiors through different expressive solutions. Products such as Eclisse and Gople introduce distinctive luminous accents, while more integrated fixtures, such as Sharp, complement the architecture with discretion. Together, these different elements articulate the spaces and enhance their proportions, materials and details, reinforcing the overall character of the project.

Light thus becomes an integral part of the Caracolè experience, accompanying the interiors and creating different layers of spatial perception. The result is a welcoming and sophisticated atmosphere, where memory and contemporaneity come together through the language of Italian design.
