

Talbot Road

➤ London, UK

➤ Year / 2015

Category / Residential

Author / Lipton Plant Architects

This family home had been manipulated over the years into an untidy maize of small rooms with poor circulation. Lipton Plant Architects work reconfigured the property to provide a single staircase, leading to five generously sized bedrooms and a dramatic two storey extension providing living space and study. Artemide provided full lighting design services for the project.

